Adelle vs. Pamplin.

Although the rain fell constantly, an enthusiastic crowd came out Saturday morning, July 1st, to see the game of ball between Adelle and Pamplin teams. These two teams had measured their strength against each other a week before, and notwithstanding the fact that half the Adelle team had never even seen a game before, they put up a fine game through the fifth inning, the score being 3 to 1 for Adelle.

The new men went to pieces and Pamplin won 10 to 3. With the knowledge gained by the first game, and confidence in themselves restored, the Adelle team gave Pamplin a stiff game on Saturday, the score being 14 to 14. The Pamplin team is composed of older men and has some fine material in it, having several college men who have played good ball as well as others of experience and practice. The teams battled in following order:

Farmville 9—Lynchburg 1.

Last Tuesday afternoon, in a hard fought game, the wearers of the blue and white triumphed over the nine from the Hill City by a score of 9 to 1. Lynchburg was outclassed in every department of the game, and never after the third inning did she stand a chance of victory.

In the first inning Hardaway reached first by being hit by the ball, and he was let in home by an error on second. Lynchburg smiled and thought it had a "walk-over;" the smile deepened at the second inning when both sides were shut out; but it died on their lips when in the third, Farmville made six runs. It was Farmville's game from this time on; Lynchburg played without hope, and for that part they were "up in the air."

The game had to be called at the first half of the seventh inning on account of the copious weeping of the clouds at Lynchburg's bum playing. The features of the game were the phenomenal pitching of Reynolds, who kept his hits well scattered, the magnificent work of Farmville's entire infield, its good team work, and the hard, accurate and timely batting of Reynolds, Paulett, V. and Wilkerson, G.

Batteries—Farmville, Reynolds and Wilkerson; Lynchburg, Robertson and Shelton. Bases on balls—off Robertson, 3; off Reynolds, 0.

The game was one well worth seeing, even though the spectators had to stand in the rain. Reynolds twirled the sphere with his accustomed accuracy, and Wilkerson held his curves with deadly certainty. This is Farmville's third game with other local teams, and its percentage is still 1,000.

This is undoubtedly the best all-Farmville team that the town has ever been able to produce, and it deserves the earnest support of every public-spirited citizen. There is nothing that will bring a town into such public note as a first class baseball team; we have such a team and we must give it our support, financial and moral, to keep it first class. There is not a person in town who would see our town degenerate one iota, yet there are many who do not come out to the games, and thus manifest their indifference. Let this be the case no longer. All of us should come out to the next game; those who are unavoidably detained can at least contribute the price of admission. Let us rally together in support of our team; we cannot be satisfied to boast only of our past success, we must press forward in quest of new honors for our dear old town. Hurrah for every public-spirited citizen!

The manager of our team is very anxious to get a number of games scheduled for the summer with other cities and towns, so he gives a general challenge to all local teams in this part of the State, to be played either at Farmville or elsewhere.

County Board of Education Meets.

The county board of education met on last Saturday, at the request of Rev. John H. Davis, who succeeds Prof. J. D. Eggleston, Jr., as county superintendent, the latter having declined to apply for reappointment. Only three members were absent.

Mr. Davis stated that he had asked the board to meet that he might have the pleasure of shaking hands with the members, that he might learn something of the work of the schools, and that the board might adopt a policy for the next four years. He made an earnest talk and pledged himself to do all in his power for the improvement of the schools.

A general discussion of the school laws followed. Census books were given the clerks, and they will take a census of all the children of school age in their districts. Capt. Pettus moved that the chairman appoint a committee to draw resolutions and a testimonial expressing the opinion of the board as to the work of the retiring superintendent. He stated that in his experience as a trustee for 33 years, Mr. Eggleston was the most efficient man who had filled the office of county superintendent of Prince Edward. The motion was unanimously carried and the chairman appointed as the committee Capt. T. T. Pettus, Mr. George Hunt, Capt. S. W. Paulett, Mr. J. T. Clark, and Mr. E. G. McGeehe.

Before adjournment, Mr. Eggleston made a short address, thanking the board, individually and collectively, for the uniform courtesy and patience shown to him in his work with the board. He stated to the new superintendent that the board had certain definite policies which he earnestly hoped would be continued. The board was steadily raising the standard of the teachers, in order to have only those holding first grade certificates; it was raising the salaries and lengthening terms as rapidly as the funds would allow; it had determined to stop the building of any but first class schoolhouses; libraries had been placed in 30 of the schools, with about 1400 volumes of books. He trusted that the new superintendent would believe these policies wise and foster them in every way. "It would be hard, indeed," said Mr. Eggleston, "to find a more conscientious and earnest set of men. All they ask is good leadership; and in every practical measure looking to the improvement of the schools they will be found earnestly co-operating with the superintendent."

The board will hold its regular annual meeting on or about August 10th.

Forced to Starve.

Married.

At the residence of the bride, at Farmville, at 3 o'clock, P. M., July 4, Mr. J. B. Winn, pastor of the Methodist church officiating, Mr. Joseph A. Williams, of Lynchburg, and Miss Fanny Wells.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple took their departure for Lynchburg, where they will reside, and where the groom plies his trade, that of decorator.

The many friends of the bride here, the Herald joining, wish them prosperity and plenty.

Friend—Dunn.

Miss Edie Spooner Dunn and Mr. John Townes Friend were married at 4:30, Wednesday afternoon, at the bride's home.

The bride, who was very becomingly attired in a going away gown of blue voile built on tulle, entered on the arm of her cousin, Mr. George Cameron, Jr., who gave her away, after which the knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Winn.

The wedding was a very quiet one, with no attendants except the best man, Mr. P. Winston Payne, and was witnessed by only the most intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left Farmville for an extended tour, on which, after a few days spent with the groom's relatives in Manchester, and Mrs. W. Clayton Orr, sister of the bride, at Leesburg, they will visit the Lewis and Clark Exposition, as well as other points of interest in the West, and where the groom has business interests.

Burger—Marshall.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at the home of Mrs. Emma V. Marshall, when her daughter, Miss Mary Virginia Marshall, was married to Mr. John L. Burger, of Farmville, Va. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. N. Robinson.

The bride has a large circle of friends in West Baltimore and is secretary of the West Baltimore Temperance Y. and the junior Saturday Night Bible Class. The groom is a prominent young business man of Farmville and was attended as best man by his brother, Dr. J. Spencer Burger.

The bride wore a handsome gown of Paris muslin over tulle and carried bride roses. Miss Ella Louise Marshall, her sister, was the maid of honor and Prof. H. L. Canales played the wedding march. Only the family and close relatives of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Burger left later on an extended wedding trip. They will make their future home in Farmville.

Died.

Mr. James A. Baker, a Confederate veteran, of Company K, Third Va. Cavalry, commanded by General Fitzhugh Lee, died at his home in this county, Sunday morning, at 4 o'clock, at the age of 70 years. He took part in the recent reunion of the Confederate veterans at this place, and was in the street parade.

His remains were taken to Pamplin, his old home, and interred by the side of his wife. Thus, one by one, the already thin ranks of those who wore the gray are being broken.

Found Dead in Bed.

Wednesday morning the wife of Charlie Horace (colored) went to his bed to awake him. Finding him sleeping very soundly, as she supposed, she shook him, but without success. Making closer examination, she found that he was dead. The deceased had been on her streets, apparently in good health, the evening before, and had attended the ball-game. He worked for H. C. Kayton, and was of a jovial, good natured disposition.

Farley Fancies.

Farley, Va., July 9, '05.

Hay rides and entertainments have been the fad of the past week. The young people who had the pleasure of going on the hay ride to have their fortune told enjoyed it immensely, as each one heard the others' fortune.

Miss Edith Davis gave an entertainment in her home last Wednesday night to a few of her friends. Among those present were Misses Lottie Miller, Lella Farley, Mabel Glenn, Lillie Carter, Messrs. Rodolph Garnett, Herbert Glenn, Alvin Kennedy and Edwin Carter. Various games and other amusements were indulged in, after which the guests repaired to the dining room, where refreshments were served.

Mrs. E. W. Carter gave a delightful Ice Cream supper Saturday night in honor of the twenty-third birthday of her son, Edwin. Those present were Misses Lillie Carter, Edith Davis, Lella Farley, Lottie Miller, Alice Farley
